

Care Management for High Risk Pregnancies Referral

Care Management for High Risk Pregnancies (CMHRP) services are available to pregnant and postpartum women receiving Medicaid who have risk factors which may put them at risk for poor birth outcomes. We are working together to improve birth outcomes in the Medicaid population through coordinated, evidence-based maternity care for women at risk for poor birth outcomes, with a focus on quality improvement.

Working together to improve the health of mothers and babies in the NC Medicaid population.

Priority risk factors include:

- History of preterm birth (less than 37 completed weeks)
- Chronic medical and/or behavioral health conditions which may complicate pregnancy
- Unsafe living environment (violence/abuse/ or homelessness/unstable housing)
- History of low birth weight (less than 2500 grams/ 5lbs 8oz)
- Late entry to prenatal care (after 14 weeks)
- Substance use (use in the month prior to pregnancy or current use) or tobacco use (quit smoking after learning of pregnancy or smokes now)
- Missing two or more prenatal appointments without rescheduling
- Fetal Complications
- Multiple gestation
