RECENT GROWTH

In 2023/2024, Rowan County continued to build on its growth trajectory, with significant progress in speculative industrial development and several high-impact project announcements. The County now boasts 19.5 million square feet of speculative building space at various stages—6.4 million under construction, 7.3 million proposed, 4.2 million in planning, and 1.6 million move-in ready—positioning Rowan as a competitive player in the Charlotte metro region.

This momentum contributed to the recruitment of Chick-fil-A Supply, which is investing $58.3 million and creating 112 new jobs in at the new Lakeshore Corporate Park in Kannapolis; DHL Supply Chain, which announced a $40 million investment in Salisbury for a life sciences-focused operation; and General RV, which broke ground on a $25 million facility expected to create over 150 full-time jobs. These wins reflect Rowan County's commitment to proactive product development and its growing appeal as a destination for strategic business investment.

HELPING TALENT FEEL LIKE A LOCAL FASTER

In 2023/2024, the Rowan EDC launched its Concierge Relocation Service to support talent considering a move to Rowan County. This personalized service goes beyond job connections—it helps newcomers feel at home faster by providing tailored guidance on housing, education, and quality-of-life amenities. Whether someone is relocating from across the country or just across the state, the Concierge Relocation Service ensures they're equipped to thrive in Rowan. This initiative seamlessly complements the ongoing national "Choose Rowan" campaign, reinforcing the County's commitment to attracting and retaining top-tier talent.

ELECTRIC VEHICLE DESTINATION

Rowan County is rapidly emerging as a prime location for electric vehicle (EV) suppliers, thanks to its strategic proximity to major EV manufacturing facilities. Situated within an hour's drive of Toyota's forthcoming $14 billion battery plant in Greensboro-Randolph and VinFast's $4 billion automotive assembly facility in Chatham County, Rowan offers suppliers unparalleled access to these industry giants. Additionally, Scout Motors is investing $2 billion in a new EV production center in Blythewood, South Carolina, just over two hours south of Rowan County. With direct access to I-85, robust infrastructure, and a regional workforce of nearly 1.4 million within an hour's drive, Rowan County provides the logistical advantage and talent pipeline suppliers need. Available industrial sites and move-in-ready speculative buildings make it easy to scale quickly, positioning Rowan County as a key player in the growing EV supply chain.

AFFORDABLE COST OF LIVING

In 2023/2024, Rowan County's competitive edge in affordability was recognized in the Cost-of-Living Index published by the Center for Regional Economic Competitiveness. The report highlighted Rowan County as an exceptional destination for talent, with housing costs at just 77% of the national average and an overall cost of living at 90.5% of the national average. This affordability, combined with continued job growth and rising wages, is fueling momentum in talent attraction. Rowan County now ranks 15th out of 100 counties in North Carolina for average private sector wages and 5th among the 11 counties in its region, with an average wage of $52,101—well above the County's historical average. These figures underscore Rowan's growing appeal as both a place to live and work.

It is the policy of NC Department of Health and Human Services to provide services, care, benefits, and assistance to all qualified persons without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, religion, age, disability, or political beliefs.

Rowan County DSS is responsible for receiving and screening reports of child abuse and neglect, as well as reports of abuse, neglect, and/or exploitation of adults who are disabled. If a child protective services report meets the statutory definitions for abuse, neglect, or dependency, the report is assigned to a social worker for assessment. Findings determine what services are recommended or required, including possible court action.

If an adult protective services report meets the definitions set forth in law and policy, the report is assigned to a social worker for evaluation. Findings determine whether or not the Department will recommend services or seek court action. Adults who are determined to have the capacity to make their own decisions may elect to stay in situations in which they are abused, neglected, or exploited. The social worker collaborates with other service providers in the community to include adult day care, in-home aide, adult care homes, and skilled nursing facilities, to name just a few.

The legal authority to protect adults who are disabled and children is defined in the North Carolina General Statutes. Rowan County DSS is the legal custodian for nearly 200 children and legal guardian for around 70 adults. There are many ways citizens can support the work DSS does with children and families. If you are interested in becoming a foster parent, serving as a community volunteer, or finding another way to help, please call us at 704.216.8440 to see how you can get involved. Folks interested specifically in fostering can also call 980-429-HOME (4663) or email Fostering@rowancountync.gov.

STEPS TO BECOMING A FOSTER PARENT

1. Be between the ages of 21 to 65 years old, married or single.
2. Have adequate income to meet your family's financial needs.
3. Have a clear criminal background check, with no prior history of Child Protective Services involvement.

During the 2023-2024 school year, the Rowan-Salisbury School System served 17,962 STUDENTS in 33 public school settings across Rowan County. RSS believes that the FIRST option in education is the BEST option in education for Rowan County families. As the first and only Renewal District in NC, RSS is rewriting the traditional approach to education, finding new ways to include professionals in the learning experience, and providing meaningful and engaging work for students and staff.

Each RSS high school offers an academy option available for all RSS students. The high school academies included Agriculture and Farm-To-Table; Business, Marketing, and Finance; Communications; Health Sciences; Fine and Performing Arts; STEM and Advanced Manufacturing. Students also had the option to enroll in the Rowan County Early College to earn a high school diploma and Associate of Arts degree, Summit Virtual Academy for online at-home learning, Dual Language Immersion at Isenberg Elementary, Competency-Based Education at Morgan Elementary or School Choice for North Rowan High School.

ROWAN-SALISBURY BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Board of Education establishes the policies that govern the Rowan-Salisbury School System, including curriculum, facilities, financial resources and personnel. The Board also evaluates the superintendent.

The Rowan-Salisbury Board of Education typically meets on the second and fourth Monday of each month at the Wallace Educational Forum, 500 N. Main St., Salisbury, NC. Work sessions are held every second Monday, and business meetings are held every fourth Monday. Board members are elected by Rowan County citizens in nonpartisan elections every four years. The terms are staggered to ensure continuity of service.
